UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER

The Jefferson-Hillman Hospital in Birmingham, which is owned by the University, is the chief clinical teaching unit in the University Medical Center. Student laboratories in the new eight-story Medical and Dental Basic Science Building have been designed to provide for expanded classes, both in medicine and in dentistry.

The Crippled Children's Hospital, the Public Health Building, and the Veterans Hospital, all housed in new buildings, are teaching affiliates of the University Medical Center. The University also operates an out-patient clinic and an accident and emergency service.

The Medical College of Alabama has a proud history which goes back to 1859. The College is approved by the Council on Medical Education of the American Medical Association and is a member in good standing of the Association of American Medical Colleges.

The School of Dentistry, established in 1948, has the full approval of the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association. The Dental School has also made considerable progress in the instruction of dental auxiliary personnel. A two-year program in Dental Hygiene was put into operation in the fall of 1952.

President's Message

Members of the Crimson Tide set great store by those qualities of leadership and cooperation that we associate with the memorable football teams of former years. Traditionally our teams have been encouraged to exercise to their utmost, intelligence, courage, and sportsmanship. We believe the faculty and students carry over something of this same spirit into their work, in classrooms and laboratories, in intramural sports, and in the various activities of campus life.

You are cordially invited to visit the University whenever you can. We are eager to have you see for yourself what your state university is like and what its resources are. We would cherish the opportunity to acquaint you with the objectives sought and what is being done to attain them.

On behalf of the administration, faculty, and students, I want to welcome all of you—alumni, friends, and visitors—to this football game. May I express the hope that you will enjoy it so much that you will come again to see our team perform on other occasions.

Yours sincerely,

Oliver C. Carmichael

President
University of Alabama

SCHOOL of CHEMISTRY

Chemical research and production, research in such new fields as nuclear chemistry and atomic energy, work in bacteriology, medical technology and pulp and paper technology—these are a few of the careers open to graduates of the School of Chemistry.

Chemistry is an essential part of the training of doctors, nurses, engineers, and home economists. Students in all divisions of the University may elect chemistry as part of their general education. Then, too, many students combine a major in chemistry with the study of law, commerce, geology, or physics to prepare themselves for unusual jobs not open to the narrow specialist.

The College of Engineering offers professional courses of study leading to the B.S. degree in:

Aeronautical Engineering
Ceramic Engineering
Chemical Engineering
Civil Engineering

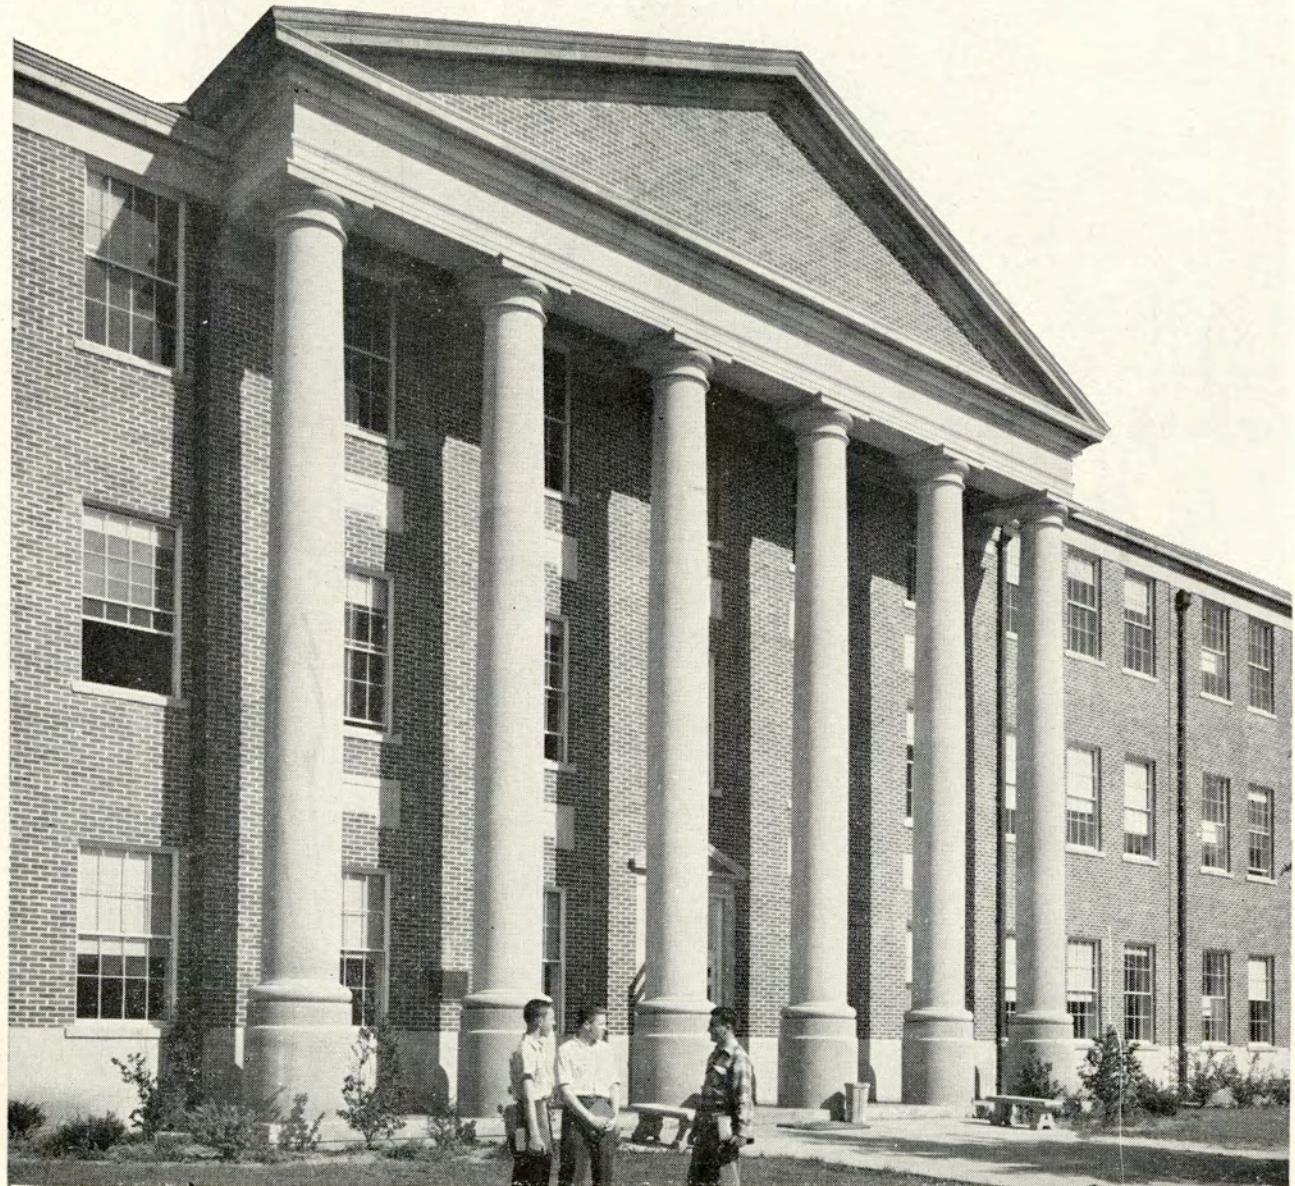

Electrical Engineering
Industrial Engineering
Metallurgical Engineering
Mechanical Engineering

Mining Engineering

The University of Alabama has eight engineering departments fully accredited by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development, the national accrediting agency for colleges of engineering.

The degree of M.S. in Engineering is conferred on those students who satisfy the graduate requirements of the College of Engineering.

SCHOOL of NURSING

PROGRAM FOR HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

The four-year program for high school graduates in the School of Nursing prepares students for professional nursing and leads to the B.S. degree in nursing.

During the first two years of this program the student is on the University campus, where liberal arts and science courses in other schools and colleges of the University are combined with courses in the School of Nursing. During the second two years of the program the student has nursing courses and experience in hospitals and in public health nursing fields.

PROGRAMS FOR GRADUATE NURSES

The programs for graduate nurses give professional preparation for positions in clinical teaching, supervision, ward administration, advanced clinical nursing, and public health nursing.

The curriculum in teaching and supervision and the curriculum in advanced professional nursing lead to the B.S. degree in Nursing. The curriculum in ward administration leads to the certificate in ward management and ward teaching; and the public health nursing curriculum leads to the certificate in public health nursing.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

MASTER'S AND PH.D. DEGREES

Through the Graduate School, Master's degrees are offered throughout the University, and the Ph.D. degree is offered in anatomy, biology, biochemistry, chemistry, commerce and business administration, English, history, pharmacology, physiology, political science, and physics. Both the Ph.D. and Ed.D. degrees are offered in education.

ENGINEERING RESEARCH

The University's graduate research program has access to the laboratories at the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies and the Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville. The University also participates in the Redstone Arsenal's cooperative program for undergraduate students in engineering and science.

The University is cooperating with several other universities and colleges in the development of a graduate training and research program at the Arnold Engineering Development Center, Tullahoma, Tennessee.

LAW SCHOOL

The Law School prepares students for the practice of law and provides legal training for those who plan to enter business or public service. The Law School is fully accredited and approved by the American Bar Association and the Association of American Law Schools.

The case method of instruction, in which students study actual cases in order to see principles of law, is used in the Law School, and seminars providing intensive and advanced work are offered each year. Moreover, through participation in the practice court, students obtain practical experience in drafting pleadings, preparing briefs, and trying cases.

Students are encouraged to do legal research and writing in the Alabama Law Review, a legal periodical published semi-annually by a student editorial board.

The Law School occupies Farrah Hall, a three-story red brick building named for the late Dean A. J. Farrah. A $200,000 annex to Farrah Hall was erected in 1949. The Law Library, housed in Farrah Hall, contains approximately 22,000 volumes.

HOW STUDENTS EARN PART of THEIR EXPENSES

Many University students earn part of their college expenses by doing part-time work. There are numerous job opportunities, for the unskilled person as well as the relatively skilled. Both men and women students may obtain part-time jobs, regardless of whether or not they have had any previous experience.

A few of the popular jobs are listed:

For Men:

Cafeteria positions
Stenographic work, typing
and other office work
Library clerkships
Manual labor

For Women:

Cafeteria positions
Stenographic work, typing
and other office work
Library clerkships
Dormitory desk assistants or switchboard operators
Baby sitters

OFF-CAMPUS JOBS

Students also find work in the various industrial and business concerns in or near Tuscaloosa. The office of the Dean of Students maintains a list of jobs available in the Tuscaloosa area.

THE 'CO-OP'HOUSE

Women students may greatly reduce their expenses by living at the Cooperative House, a dormitory where fifty young women maintain their own dining room and share the house work. A housemother lives with the group, and the University furnishes a cook.

SCHOLARSHIP AND LOANS

Many gift and loan scholarships are available to both men and women students.

SONGS

ALMA MATER

Alabama, listen mother
To our vows of love.
To ourselves and to each other
Faithful friends, we'll prove.
CHORUS
Faithful, loyal, firm and true.
Heart bound to heart will beat
Year by year the ages through,
Until in heaven we meet.

2.

College days are swiftly fleeting
Soon we'll leave thy halls,
Ne'er to join another meeting
'Neath thy hallowed walls.
3.

So farewell dear alma mater
May thy name, we pray,
Be reverenc'd ever, pure and stainless
As it is today.

YEA, ALABAMA

Yea, Alabama! Down 'em Tide!
Ev'ry 'Bama man's behind you:
Hit your stride!
Go teach the Bulldogs to behave,
Send those Yellow Jackets to a watery grave!
And if a man starts to weaken,
That's his shame!
For 'Bama's pluck and grit have writ her name in Crimson flame.
Fight on, Fight on!
Remember the Rose Bowl, we'll win, then.
Go! Roll to victory! Hit your stride!
You're Dixie's football pride,
Crimson Tide.

FIGHT ALABAMA

Fight, Alabama, never yield
We've got to break right through that line
And take that ball on down that field.
We want a touchdown sure this time.
Fight, fight your best, we'll do the rest;
We've got to show them 'Bama's right
Down hearted never, we'll fight forever;
Fight, Alabama, fight, fight, fight!

SONG OF THE CRIMSON TIDE

We are loyal to you Crimson Tide
And we'll back ev'ry move that you make.
Alabama we all praise and pride
For we share the glory that you take.
We will fight, fight like men of old.
Circle ends hard and then for a goal.
Whether lose or win.
We are backing our men!
We are loyal to you,
Crimson Tide.
